1. Scope and order of precedence

These Special Conditions of Participation apply in addition to the General Terms and Conditions where the Client books exhibition space or exhibition booth services. In the event of conflict, these Special Conditions shall prevail for exhibition-specific matters.

2. Admission and allocation

The Organizer shall determine the location, dimensions and allocation of exhibition space at its reasonable discretion, taking into account the exhibition concept, technical requirements and the legitimate interests of the Client. No entitlement exists to a specific location unless expressly confirmed in writing.

3. Operating obligation

The Client shall set up its booth within the designated set-up period, keep it properly staffed and operational throughout the published opening hours, and remove it only during the designated dismantling period. Premature dismantling or closure is prohibited unless approved by the Organizer in writing. The Client is not permitted to exchange the allocated stand space with another exhibitor or to sublet the space to third parties without the consent of the organizer. In the event of a violation, the Organizer is entitled to terminate the contractual relationship with immediate effect for good cause.

4. Safety, approvals and house rules

The Client shall comply with all applicable laws, technical guidelines, fire safety requirements, venue regulations, house rules and instructions issued by the Organizer or the venue operator. Required permits and approvals for the Client's exhibits, demonstrations and activities shall be obtained by the Client at its own cost. The safety regulations, technical guidelines, operational instructions and venue-related information will be communicated to the Client through the official Circulars. The Client shall comply with all requirements and instructions contained therein.

5. Insurance and liability for exhibits

The Client shall maintain adequate insurance for its participation, including public liability and cover for exhibits, equipment and property brought to the Event. Evidence of insurance shall be provided to the Organizer upon reasonable request. The Organizer does not assume custody of or insurance for the Client's property. The Client shall be liable to the organizer or third parties involved for all damage caused by his participation, including damage to buildings on the exhibition grounds and their furnishings, and shall indemnify the organizer against all claims by third parties.

6. Uniform design and waiver of Services

A uniform booth design is part of the exhibition concept. The Client shall not alter or omit mandatory design elements without the Organizer's prior written approval. The non-use of individual Services made available to the Client shall not entitle the Client to a reduction, refund or set-off. The Client is obliged to coordinate and agree on his design projects with the organizer in advance.

7. Circulars

After the allocation of the stand space, the Client will be informed by circular letter about the preparation and implementation of the exhibition. Any consequences of non-compliance with such circulars will be borne exclusively by the Client. The aforementioned circulars will be sent in text form by e-mail.

8. Transport, assembly and dismantling

It is solely the responsibility of the Client to organise the transport of the exhibits to and from the exhibition stand, the storage of any empties containers, the use of necessary lifting and conveying equipment as well as the deployment of personnel for packing and unpacking, setting up and dismantling the exhibits, repackaging them and all other associated activities. The Organizer assumes no liability for these activities. The Organizer may prescribe the binding use of a local freight forwarder for the handling of the forwarding work at the location of the event.
