WELCOME TO VANCOUVER!

Welcome to Vancouver, a cosmopolitan city renowned for its award-winning cuisine, world-class shopping, family-friendly attractions and a vibrant arts and music scene – all set against a picture-perfect backdrop of skyscraping mountains, world's most liveable year after year. In fact, we often say that visitors travel to Vancouver for the same reason that residents put down roots here: to experience the city's unique blend of culture, natural beauty and year-round activities.

*A-maze-ing Laughter, English Bay; lush green forests and sparkling blue ocean. If you ask us, it's the best of both worlds – a balance of urban culture and sophistication with the rugged adventure of the great outdoors.

People from dozens of countries have made Vancouver their home, adding to the rich, cultural mosaic that contributes to the city's distinction of being named one of the

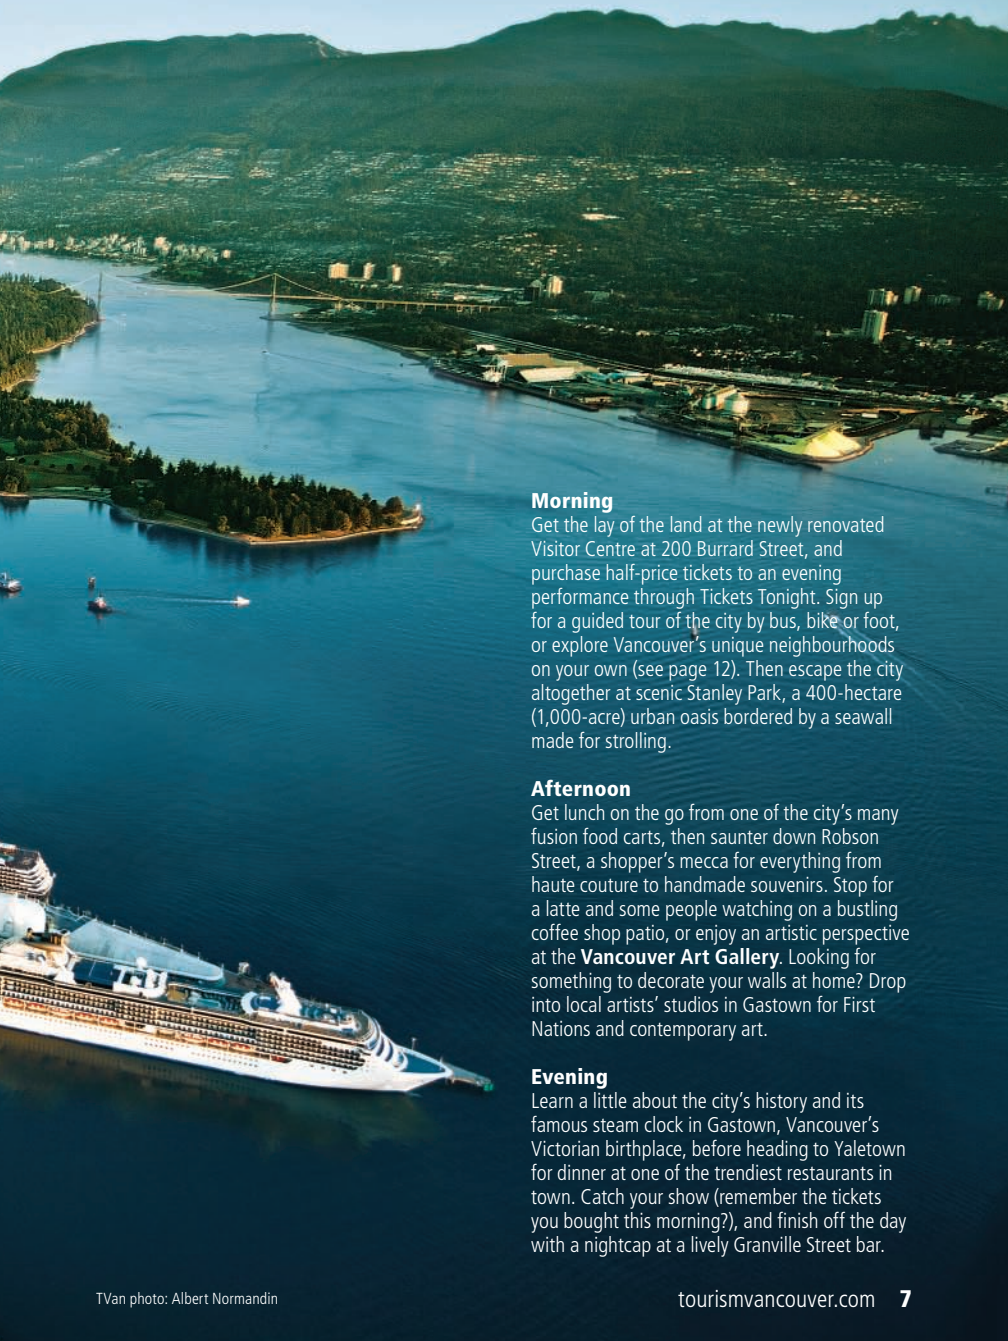

Wondering what to see first? Drop by our newly renovated Visitor Centre at 200 Burrard Street to get recommendations and maps from a trained staff member, or ask one of the City Host volunteers stationed around the city.

Vancouver truly has something for everyone, and we invite you to discover everything it has for you.

24 HOURS IN VANCOUVER

One day in Vancouver will have you wishing for more – try this quick itinerary to soak up the sights and get a feel for this incredible city

Morning

Get the lay of the land at the newly renovated Visitor Centre at 200 Burrard Street, and purchase half-price tickets to an evening performance through Tickets Tonight. Sign up for a guided tour of the city by bus, bike or foot, or explore Vancouver's unique neighbourhoods on your own (see page 12). Then escape the city altogether at scenic Stanley Park, a 400-hectare (1,000-acre) urban oasis bordered by a seawall made for strolling.

Afternoon

Get lunch on the go from one of the city's many fusion food carts, then saunter down Robson Street, a shopper's mecca for everything from haute couture to handmade souvenirs. Stop for a latte and some people watching on a bustling coffee shop patio, or enjoy an artistic perspective at the Vancouver Art Gallery. Looking for something to decorate your walls at home? Drop into local artists' studios in Gastown for First Nations and contemporary art.

Evening

Learn a little about the city's history and its famous steam clock in Gastown, Vancouver's Victorian birthplace, before heading to Yaletown for dinner at one of the trendiest restaurants in town. Catch your show (remember the tickets you bought this morning?), and finish off the day with a nightcap at a lively Granville Street bar.

CAN'T-MISS EXPERIENCES

Vancouver is bursting with iconic experiences that characterize this multifaceted city. Any of these must-sees will kick-start your Vancouver sightseeing – and you're sure to stumble upon plenty of other Vancouver treasures along the way

H.R. MacMillan Space Centre

False Creek Ferries

Granville Island

Explore Granville Island

A charming public market overflowing with fresh produce, breads, seafood and a bounty of other goods is reason enough to visit Granville Island Public Market, but don't miss exploring the narrow lanes of the island to check out its unique shops and photo-worthy views of downtown across False Creek.

Traverse the treetops

Make your way across the swaying Capilano Suspension Bridge that stretches 137 metres (450 feet) across the canyon and the Capilano River 70 metres (230 feet) below. Explore the Cliffwalk feature, a series of suspended walkways jutting out from the granite cliff face above Capilano River.

Meet the creatures

The Vancouver Aquarium is home to more than 70,000 fascinating creatures from the Arctic to the Amazon. Be sure to catch daily beluga whale, dolphin and sea otter shows – and for an unforgettable extra, try a hands-on animal encounter.

Take flight

Take in coastal Vancouver's most breathtaking sights on a scenic flightseeing adventure by floatplane with Harbour Air or Westcoast Air. Or, take a virtual aerial tour: Vancouver's newest big attraction, FlyOver Canada, will have you soaring from coast to coast in an immersive experience for all five senses!

Picnic in the park

Stop for a break at Vanier Park – perhaps after a visit to the Museum of Vancouver, spot in the city. Walk or rent a bike to tour any portion of the route for the perfect mix of fresh air and ocean views.

Explore False Creek by ferry

Catch a ride on a miniature passenger ferry between any of the nine stops along the shores of False Creek and Granville Island, or stay aboard for a scenic tour.

Learn something new

At Science World, you can ignite your mind and discover the wonders of science

Vancouver Aquarium

Capilano Suspension Bridge

Science World

Seawall

the Vancouver Maritime Museum or the H.R. MacMillan Space Centre, all of which are located here. This scenic beachside park is the perfect place to check out some public art, feed the ducks and catch a few rays.

Stroll the seawall

Stretching 22 kilometres (13.7 miles) from Coal Harbour and Kitsilano Beach – wrapping around Stanley Park along the way – the seawall that borders Vancouver's coastline is the most popular recreational with popular hands-on interactive displays, jaw-dropping science demonstrations on Centre Stage, immersive films in the domed OMNIMAX® Theatre and awesome shows in the Science Theatre.

Browse the night market

On weekend evenings in summer, Chinatown comes to life with the sights, smells and sounds of the night market. Stock up on knockoff sunglasses and other cheap imported goods, and bring your appetite to make the most of the smorgasbord of food stalls.

Take a carriage ride

Step aboard an old-fashioned horse-drawn vehicle and meander in comfort through the natural beauty of Stanley Park, Vancouver's number-one attraction.

Keep your eye on the ball

From views of the city to grand vistas of Georgia Strait and the Coast Mountains, nearly all of Vancouver's dozens of top-notch golf courses are framed by majestic scenery.

Grouse Mountain Skyride

Furry Creek Golf Course

First Nations Carving

Admire First Nations art

One of the best places to see the artwork of B.C.'s native residents is the University of British Columbia Museum of Anthropology, with its collection of approximately 6,000 objects from B.C.'s First Nations. The Coastal Peoples Fine Arts Galleries in Yaletown and Gastown showcase contemporary master carvings, basketry, glasswork, jewelry and more. And be sure to also visit the Bill Reid Gallery of Northwest Coast Art and the Inuit Gallery of Vancouver.

Get some perspective

Located in the downtown Harbour Centre, the Vancouver Lookout, at a height of 130 metres (430 feet), is the perfect place to survey the city and plan – or reflect upon – your day.

Stop to smell the flowers

A sanctuary in the heart of the city, the Dr. Sun Yat-Sen Classical Chinese Garden was the first authentic classical Chinese garden ever built outside of China. Walk along the peaceful paths to admire the harmony of water, plants and architecture and see why this was named the world's top city garden in a recent book by National Geographic.

Dr. Sun Yat-Sen Classical Chinese Garden

Have a peak experience

Grouse Mountain's Skyride will deliver you to remarkable views and a huge range of on-mountain experiences: outdoor skating, snowshoeing, skiing and snowboarding in winter, and hiking, ziplining and more in summer.

Set sail

Hop aboard Harbour Cruises, Vancouver's leading boat sightseeing company, to indulge in unparalleled views of Vancouver; it's a delightful way to experience the city – by day or night.

Take a coffee break

Vancouverites love a good cuppa joe! Savour a mug of your favourite brew at one of the hundreds of coffee shops sprinkled corner of Main and 50th streets to sample authentic samosas, curries and tikka masala – or pick up the spices to make your own. You'll also find swath after swath of luxurious fabrics that reflect the richness of the culture.

throughout the city – they're a great place for another Vancouver pastime: people watching.

Hike to new heights

Lush rainforests, sparkling waterways and dramatic mountain ranges are the calling card of Vancouver's natural splendour, and all just minutes from downtown. Pack your hiking boots – the best way to explore is on foot.

Visit Little India

Visit the heart of Vancouver's South Asian community at the Punjabi Market at the

Do it all in one day

Hit the slopes for a morning of skiing or snowboarding, then tee off on the greens in the afternoon – Vancouver's unique geography and temperate climate offer outdoor enthusiasts the best of both worlds.

WELCOME TO THE NEIGHBOURHOOD

Get to know Vancouver's unique neighbourhoods up close and personal

Each with its own character and community, Vancouver's many distinct neighbourhoods invite visitors to soak in a wide variety of urban vibes with roots in many different cultures and ways of life. And with so many of Vancouver's neighbourhoods located close to one another, it's easy to explore the different sides of this diverse city during your visit.

Gastown

As Vancouver's birthplace, Gastown sprang up in 1867 around John "Gassy Jack" Deighton's tavern. Today, its cobblestone streets are lined with First Nations galleries, trendy restaurants and stylish clothing boutiques.

Yaletown

Although evidence of Yaletown's industrial warehouse era still lingers, the neighbourhood has transformed into a trendy district for alfresco dining and fine-art galleries.

Davie Village

Rainbow flags top the lampposts, and always-buzzing coffee shops and clubs make Vancouver's gay quarter especially lively. This is a welcoming community where you can relax in a bookstore or dance the night away.

Granville Street

Vancouver's entertainment epicentre is chock full of restaurants, bars and nightclubs that really get going after dark, while more than 100 fashionable boutiques and Pacific Centre shopping mall offer retail therapy during the day.

Robson Street

A renowned destination for diehard shoppers, the blocks between Burrard and Jervis streets are lined with tempting storefronts proffering

Kitsilano

Home to 1960s hippies, Kitsilano still has a relaxed atmosphere, if not the psychedelic tie-dye. Bordered to the north by two popular beaches, “Kits” is an artsy, up-market neighbourhood chockablock with yoga studios, independent bookstores and organic coffee shops. Kits Pool, a heated saltwater swimming pool, is a popular everything from couture footwear to candied apples. Coffee shops, ethnic restaurants and sports grills also abound.

West End

The West End’s densely packed highrises fringe Stanley Park, Canada’s largest city-owned green space. Highlights include the seawall path, English Bay’s sunny beaches and the Vancouver Aquarium.

Commercial Drive

“The Drive,” for short, attracts a diverse crowd of students, writers and artists with its easygoing, bohemian vibe. Vegan eateries blend with espresso bars in what was once Vancouver’s Little Italy.

attraction, as is shopping and dining on Fourth Avenue and Broadway.

South Granville

Sophistication emanates from the spas, art galleries, interior design stores, antique shops and theatres that populate this vibrant arts and culture mecca, which is easily explored on foot.

Main Street

For a truly eclectic mix of old and new, Main Street offers great shopping, coffeehouses and hipster hangouts. Wander the area between 10th and 33rd avenues, which offers an endless supply of restaurants and shops to visit, including a number of antique dealers.

THE GREAT OUTDOORS

Looking for a little adventure to spice up your days of sightseeing? Nestled between the mountains and the ocean, with an active, outdoorsy population, Vancouver is full of activities for those who want to enjoy life to its fullest

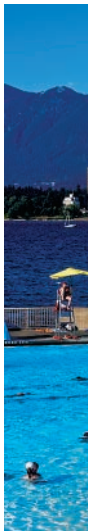

Whale Watching

Interpretive Walk

Skiing & Snowboarding

Wildlife and whale watching

Best visited between March and October, the waters off the coast of Vancouver and Vancouver Island offer some of the most thrilling whale watching anywhere. Vancouver's Orcas and grey whales provide exciting adventures for visitors of all ages. March through October, grey whales migrate through the Tofino/Ucluelet area of Vancouver Island; May to October, southern resident Orcas feed on passing salmon in the Strait of Georgia and the Gulf Islands; and from July to September northern resident Orcas feed in Johnstone Strait.

Cycling and mountain biking

Urban paths and forest trails have been drawing cycling enthusiasts to Vancouver for years. Options include pedalling leisurely through Stanley Park and the University of British Columbia campus or navigating rugged trails on the North Shore. Rent a bike to go on your own or sign up for a guided adventure with companies such as Cycle City Tours.

Skiing and snowboarding

You'll find plenty of runs for a variety of levels of skiing and riding at Cypress and

Grouse mountains, less than half an hour's drive from the city centre – all amid gorgeous alpine terrain and close enough to Vancouver to be back in time for a late-afternoon or early-evening cocktail.

Beachcombing

National Geographic named Vancouver one of the "Top 10 Beach Cities in the World." Take a swim in the beachside saltwater pool at Second Beach in Stanley Park or try paddle boarding at Spanish Bank in Point Grey. There are many to choose from, but we

Birdwatching

Both the dedicated birdwatcher and amateur naturalist will be amazed by the wide variety of birdlife, wintering shorebirds and waterfowl found within Metro Vancouver and the surrounding area. Lost Lagoon, in Stanley Park, is a conveniently located place for birdwatching. Several adventure companies offer guided birdwatching experiences, including a bald eagle-viewing float trip at Brackendale, one of the world's top spots for viewing these magnificent birds.

Swimming

Mountain Biking

Birdwatching

Sea Kayaking

like Jericho Beach for its easygoing vibe, its knockout city-and-mountain views, its great sunset-watching potential and the option to put up a net for a game of beach volleyball.

Sea kayaking

There's nothing like exploring Vancouver in a kayak – natural wonders, exciting wildlife and breathtaking views are all to be expected. Visitors can take guided tours from Granville Island, English Bay, Jericho Beach and Deep Cove with tour companies like Ecomarine Paddlesport Centres and Lotus Land Tours.

Rainforest interpretive walks

Discover ancient natural wonders and fascinating wildlife on the North Shore or Bowen Island as knowledgeable guides lead groups through the lush West Coast rainforest, amid towering Douglas firs and cedar trees, some 500 to 900 years old.

Join the Buzz

These locals are always tweeting about outdoor fun in Vancouver:
@Cypressmtn @vancouvertrails @grousemountain @MyVancouver

The Grouse Grind

If you want a real challenge, or at least a serious workout, try the Grouse Grind, a 2.9-kilometre (1.8-mile) trail straight up to the top of Grouse Mountain. And when we say straight up, we mean it! If you make it to the top, you've definitely earned some bragging rights.

Native cultural experiences

Vancouver offers ample opportunity to experience the unique cultures of Canada's

First Nations Performance

First Nations. Traditional performances and carving can be seen daily at Capilano Suspension Bridge and Park. The University of British Columbia Museum of Anthropology showcases the best of West Coast native art while the Bill Reid Gallery of Northwest Coast Art houses the largest collection of works by B.C.'s iconic Haida artist. In Deep Cove, take an interpretive paddle tour complete with ancestral songs and legends in traditional cedar ocean-going canoes with Takaya Tours.

Scuba diving

It might surprise you to learn that British Columbia has several famed dive spots, including Porteau Cove, just 38 kilometres (24 miles) north of Vancouver. Three wrecked vessels create artificial reefs, which are home to octopuses, anemones and harbour seals.

Rock climbing

The Stawamus Chief near Squamish is a granite monolith offering rock climbers the ultimate vertical fix. Challenging climbs

Grouse Grind

Rock Climbing

are also found on Vancouver's North Shore in the deep gorge of Capilano Canyon, at Lighthouse Park and on the bluffs in Deep Cove overlooking Indian Arm.

A TASTE OF VANCOUVER

Experience the diverse cultures that make our city unique – one dish at a time

Hors d'oeuvre

Food Tours

Sweet Treats

Vancouver's location puts it in prime position to reap the fruits of the sea, and seafood is very much a part of the city's food culture. You haven't truly sampled West Coast cuisine until you've treated your taste buds to mussels, oysters, cedar-plank salmon, Dungeness crab or any other Pacific Northwest specialty. B.C. spot prawns are a seasonal delicacy – watch for special menu items at local restaurants in May and June – but you can stop by a local fish market any time of year for the catch of the day or to stock up on maple candied salmon, a local sweet treat.

Multicultural Vancouver is also known for having some of the most diverse and authentic culinary choices in Canada. Whether you have a hankering for spicy Cajun jambalaya, crispy Greek kalamari or comforting Vietnamese Pho, you can satisfy your hunger here.

Japanese food is ubiquitous here, from hole-in-the-wall sushi joints to upscale Japanese barbecues, but the hottest trend is izakaya, best described as the Japanese version of a tapas bar. Sample some ishiyaki (a method of cooking on a hot stone) and savour a local brew of sake from a bamboo cup.

With one of the largest Chinatown districts in North America, it's no wonder that dim sum is another staple of Vancouver dining. Stop in for a quick snack or a full meal – bite-size portions served in small dishes are perfect for sharing and make it easy to sample a wide variety of menu items. Many restaurants wheel around carts of freshly made food for the picking. Watch for local favourites such as steamed shrimp dumplings, vegetable spring rolls, savoury at a wine bar, or a hearty plate of seafood paella. Greek restaurants abound, serving up authentically spiced souvlaki and rich moussaka with sides of lemony potatoes and tzatziki sauce.

One of the best ways to experience Vancouver cuisine is to go with those in the know. Let an experienced chef or turnip cake and barbecue pork buns. Finish off with a sweet dessert such as the ever-popular egg tart.

Fresh spices, such as tamarind and cumin, and exotic produce like jackfruit make the eateries of Punjabi Market one of the best places to try delicately spiced samosas and gulab jamun, a fried pastry dipped in honey.

If your tastes lean toward the Mediterranean, you can indulge in fresh, house-made pastas, melt-in-your-mouth risotto and traditional Naples-style pizza at restaurants throughout the city. Treat yourself to a light snack of Spanish tapas foodie guide you through the vast rows of exotic produce, meats and cheeses of the Granville Island Public Market, indulge your sweet tooth on a chocolate-themed tour of downtown, or eat your way through a walking tour of historic Gastown. A tasting tour of the city is the perfect introduction to the gems of the local culinary scene.

CELEBRITY CHEFS

It's no secret that talented chefs have become the new celebrities – get to know Vancouver's own roster of gastronomic gurus who have helped turn the city into an exciting culinary destination

Canada's first sushi chef, Hidekazu Tojo, is credited with creating the California Roll in Vancouver during the early '70s as a way to appeal to non-Japanese diners. Now a sushi menu staple throughout North America, you can try the original at Tojo's Restaurant.

When it comes to Belgian cuisine in Vancouver, look no further than the creations of Nico Schuermans at his award-winning Belgian-fusion restaurant, Chambar.

A fresh face of change, Chris Whittaker's recent opening, forage, is as highly acclaimed for its commitment to sustainability and energy efficiency as it is to using locally sourced and ethically sound ingredients.

Executive chef at West, Quang Dang is a fast-rising star in Vancouver's dynamic culinary scene. Get a taste of his signature West Coast cuisine, which infuses sustainably harvested seafood and locally sourced ingredients with globally inspired flavours.

Native Vancouverite David Hawksworth is noted for being the youngest chef inductee into the BC Restaurant Hall of Fame, and his latest endeavour, Hawksworth Restaurant, exhibits his talent for unique flavour combinations and artful presentation.

ART ON THE MOVE

Take a self-guided tour of the city's finest outdoor art

A-maze-ing Laughter

217.5 Arc x 13'

Echoes

Vancouver is home to some 350 outdoor art installations, many of them sponsored by the Vancouver Biennale, a non-profit organization celebrating art in public spaces. Take a tour of a featured few by following the seawall, the 22-kilometre (13-mile) scenic path along the city's coastline. Walk a portion of the paved path, or rent a bicycle to see it all.

Beginning at the Vancouver Convention Centre, look for The Drop, a large blue raindrop crafted by Inges Idee, a reminder of both the preciousness of water as a resource and its pervasive presence in Vancouver in the form of rain. To the west, you'll find the 2010 Olympic Cauldron, a legacy of the 2010 Winter Games held in Vancouver. Nearby is the seemingly pixelated Digital Orca, "making a familiar symbol of the West Coast become something unexpected and new," according to renowned local artist Douglas Coupland.

Following the seawall around the perimeter of Stanley Park, you can't miss the remarkable Brockton Point totem poles. A treasured legacy of Canadian history dating back as far as the 1920s, some of these intricately carved and beautifully painted totem poles came from the Haida Gwaii. A little further on, perched atop a granite boulder jutting out of the water, is Girl in a Wetsuit. Artist Elek Imredy sculpted the striking scuba diver statue in 1972 in acknowledgement of Vancouver's dependence on the sea.

Emerging from Stanley Park at English Bay, you'll be met by 14 cartoonish bronze figures grinning from ear to ear. A favourite among locals, A-maze-ing Laughter by Chinese artist Yue Minjun depicts the artist marriage debates transpiring in Canada. On the beach you'll also spot 217.5 Arc x 13' by Bernar Venet. Drawing on the beauty of mathematics, the raw, curved Corten steel beams demonstrate the stability and malleability of this industry material.

From here, follow the seawall all the way to Vanier Park, or hop a ride across False Creek on a tiny passenger ferry. As you approach, watch for Freezing Water by Jun Ren, himself laughing and gesturing in a series of oversized self-portraits.

Continue down the Seaside Bicycle Route to the inukshuk, constructed by Alvin Kanak. This Inuit stone structure resembling a human form represents hospitality. A gift to the city from the Northwest Territories during Expo 86, it later became the symbol of the Vancouver 2010 Olympic Winter Games.

Sunset Beach Park is home to two giant diamond rings constructed by Dennis Oppenheim and appropriately named Engagement. The piece was installed in 2005 coinciding with the same-sex an imposing stainless steel structure that resembles liquid mercury frozen in motion. Then stop for a rest at Kitsilano Beach and take a seat on Echoes by Michel Goulet, a collection of stainless steel café chairs inscribed with thoughtful phrases in both French and English.

GENERAL INFORMATION

VANCOUVER BASICS

---

POPULATION

City of Vancouver: 603,500

Metro Vancouver: Almost 2.5 million

LANGUAGES SPOKEN

English and French are Canada's two official languages. English is the predominant language spoken in British Columbia.

CLIMATE

Metro Vancouver has a very mild climate. In winter, it rarely snows in the city; summers are warm with cooler evenings.

Average Daily Highs

January	5° C	42° F
February	7° C	44° F
March	10° C	50° F
April	14° C	58° F

August	23° C	74° F
September	18° C	65° F
October	14° C	58° F
November	9° C	48° F
December	6° C	43° F

TIME ZONE

Vancouver is in the Pacific Time Zone. Daylight time (clocks move one hour ahead) is in effect from the second Sunday in March until the first Sunday in November.

METRIC EQUIVALENTS

Canada uses the international metric system. Following are some common conversions:

1 kilogram	= 2.2 pounds
1 pound	= 0.45 kilograms
1 kilometre	= 0.6 miles
1 mile	= 1.6 kilometres
1 centimetre	= 0.39 inches
1 inch	= 2.54 centimetres
1 litre	= 1.06 U.S. quarts
1 U.S. quart	= 0.95 litres

ELECTRICAL CURRENT

The electrical current is the same in Canada and the United States: 110 volts AC at 60Hz. Adapters are required for appliances from most other countries.

Search online for suppliers of attendant care services; medical supplies; equipment purchase, rental and repairs; and recreational opportunities.

Returning or Travelling to the United States

Currently, U.S. and Canadian citizens are required to have a passport at all entry points if entering the United States. Up-to-date information can be found at getyouhome.gov and travel.state.gov. Each visitor over the age of 19 may import to Canada, duty-free: 1.14 litres (40 oz.) of liquor or wine or 8.5

litres (288 oz. or 24 bottles) of beer and 50 cigars, 200 cigarettes and 200 grams (7 oz.) of manufactured tobacco. Revolvers, pistols and fully automatic firearms are prohibited in Canada.

Make Sure You're Fully Insured

Individual travellers are advised to obtain their own personal health, luggage or other travel insurance, which can be bought through local automobile associations, travel agencies and insurance companies.

TRAVELLING WITH PETS

All pets coming to Canada must be accompanied by their owners. Each pet must have a certificate from a licensed American or Canadian veterinarian clearly stating that it has been vaccinated against rabies in the previous 36 months, otherwise the pet will not be permitted into Canada.

CUSTOMS & BORDER CROSSING INFO

Canada Customs Entry Regulations

Citizens or permanent residents of the United States require a U.S. passport to enter Canada. Proof of residence, such as a driver's licence, should also be carried. However, this is not accepted as proof of citizenship. Visit getyouhome.gov for details. All international visitors must be in possession of a valid national passport and, in some cases, a visa (check with your local Canadian consulate or embassy).

TRAVELLING BY CAR

Driving in British Columbia

Tourists are permitted to drive in British Columbia for up to six months if they hold a valid driver's licence from another province, state or country, or up to 12 months if they also hold an International Driver's Permit issued outside of Canada.

Approximate Mileage Conversions

50 kph = 30 mph

100 kph = 60 mph

Driver Services Centre

Royal Centre

Suite 221 – 1055 W. Georgia, Vancouver, B.C.

800.950.1498, icbc.com

B.C. Buckles Up

The use of safety belts, child safety seats, bicycle helmets and motorcycle helmets is mandatory in British Columbia.

MONEY

Currency

Notes are in denominations of $100, $50, $20, $10 and $5. Coins are in denominations of $2 ("toonie"), $1 ("loonie"), 25¢ (quarter), 10¢ (dime) and 5¢ (nickel). Visitors are urged to exchange their funds for Canadian dollars at a bank or foreign exchange outlet where they will receive the prevailing rate of exchange.

Bank Machines/Credit Cards

Most bank machines in Metro Vancouver offer service on the Plus, Cirrus and Interac networks. They also generally accept credit card withdrawals. If you use your credit card to get cash from an ATM, the currency exchange is automatically done for you at the rate your credit card company offers. Vancouver welcomes all major credit cards.

Tipping

Tips or service charges are not usually added to a restaurant bill in Canada. Tipping your server at a bar, restaurant, nightclub or pub is standard practice, and in general, a tip of 15% to 20% of the pre-tax amount is suggested. Porters at airports, railway stations and hotels are generally given $1 to $2 per bag.

Taxes

A federal goods and services tax (GST) of five per cent applies to most purchased goods and services. In addition, a provincial sales tax (PST) of seven per cent is applicable to most retail purchases except liquor, which is taxed at 10 per cent.

ALCOHOL AND SMOKING

Minors (anyone under 19 years of age) are not admitted into nightclubs serving alcohol. Each municipality in Metro Vancouver has different rules for smoking in public places like public buildings, restaurants and pubs. Please smoke in designated areas only.

GETTING TO & AROUND VANCOUVER

GETTING HERE

If you're flying to Vancouver, you'll pass through Vancouver International Airport (YVR), the gateway to Vancouver from around the globe (yvr.ca). Floatplanes are another way to travel by air; they service the outlying islands and nearby towns, and offer a breathtaking alternative form of travel to and from Vancouver.

For those driving from the United States, there are three border crossings in Washington; the largest is Interstate #5 (I-5) from Seattle, which becomes Highway 99 north of the border and will take you directly to Vancouver.

GETTING AROUND

Downtown Vancouver is very walkable. Many of its main attractions and shopping areas are close together, and its grid-like street system makes navigation easy. Additionally, a highly convenient public transit system traverses the city and suburbs by bus, rail and ferry. Buses travel to nearly every corner of the city and include standard buses, emission-free trolley buses, a NightBus service, express coaches and more. The SeaBus ferry shuttles passengers between downtown Vancouver and the North Shore's Lonsdale Quay. The SkyTrain automated light rail transit system serves Vancouver as well as nearby Burnaby, New Westminster, Surrey and Richmond, including the Vancouver International Airport. The West Coast Express offers commuter rail service to several outlying municipalities to the east. For more details on public transit routes and schedules, visit translink.bc.ca.

Taxis can be flagged from the street in most areas, and water taxis provide transport across False Creek to and from Granville and Bowen Islands (granvilleislandferries.bc.ca, theaquabus.com). Finally, BC Ferries offers extensive service to Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands through its two mainland ferry terminals, in Tsawwassen and Horseshoe Bay (bcferries.com).

SAMPLE FLYING TIMES

Toronto–Vancouver: 4 hrs. 55 min.

Los Angeles–Vancouver: 2 hrs. 50 min.

London–Vancouver: 9 hrs. 30 min.

Tokyo–Vancouver: 8 hrs. 40 min.

Hong Kong–Vancouver: 11 hrs. 30 min.

New York–Vancouver: 6 hrs. 12 min.

DRIVING TIMES

Vancouver–Whistler: 2 hrs. (125 km/75 mi)

Vancouver–Seattle: 3 hrs. (235 km/145 mi)

Vancouver–Kelowna: 4 hrs. (400 km/250 mi)

VISITOR CENTRE

Kick off your trip the right way: Let expert Vancouverites help you plan your stay. Drop by the newly renovated Visitor Centre to buy tickets to local attractions and shows, stock up on maps and brochures, and get personalized service and suggestions on how to spend your visit.

Downtown Vancouver Visitor Centre

(wheelchair accessible)

200 Burrard Street

Open daily 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

- Free reservation services
- Hundreds of product brochures
- Information in a variety of languages
- Exclusive discounts on select products (participating businesses are marked with the  symbol in this publication)

The Visitor Centre also comes to you! During the summer months, you'll spot volunteer City Hosts throughout downtown

Vancouver, welcoming visitors and providing directions and information about the city.

Tickets Tonight!

Vancouver's only Same-Day, Half-Price ticket outlet is located inside the Visitor Centre. Music, theatre, sporting events – you tell us what you want to see, we'll get you affordable tickets. Tickets Tonight is also a box office, offering advance tickets to shows and performances around town. For information, visit [ticketst tonight.ca](http://ticketst tonight.ca).
